WORK OF PREFARATION.

The upper hall of the Masonic Temple presented a lively appearance yesterdly morning, with the chairmen of the various booths and their assistants busily at work, piling up sofa cushions, hanging friezes of vari-colored Japanese lanterns, grouping baskets of all sizes and for all purposes, arranging tempting looking packages of candy, setting in order the belonging of the Music and the Furniture Booths, disjensing the "odors of Araby" at the Drug Booth, providing for the appetite at the Commissary and Restaurant Booths, and the comfort of mankind at the Tobacca Rooth.

The chairmen of the different booths in their order of arrangement were: Mrs. Andrew J. Montague, Mrs. William Royall, Mrs. A. von N. Rosnegt, Mrs. J. W. Richardson, Mrs. Nelson Powell, Mrs. W. H. Peyton, Mrs. J. A. Ridgeley, Miss Ruby Bodeker, Miss Roddy, Mrs. Emanedel Raab and Mrs. L. O. Millor.

A latter was received Sunday by Mrs. Montague from General Joseph Wheeler expressing much regret over his inability to be present at the opening of the Confederate Fair on account of a most important previous engagement in Clevaland, Ohlo. She and Miss Bodeker were assisted in receiving their visitors last evening by Miss Mary Custis Lee, the president of the Confederate Women's Home, who arrived in Richmond yesterday morning, and is stopping at the Jefferson; the wives of Governor Montague's staff officers, Mrs. William A. Anderson, Mrs. George M. Harrison, Mrs. James Kotth, Mrs. Charles T. An antique tester bed in mahogany was one of the most valuable pieces at the booth.

FILLED WITH SWEET ODORS.

The drug booth was full of sweet odors and of all the toilet belongings that people of both sexes covet most. Little perfume baskets and sachets filled up small spaces. A big gilt mortar and pestle required more room. A handsome piece of silver had been contributed by Spilling, the Broad Street jeweler. The tobacco booth, with Mrs, Emanuel Raab as chairman, was one of the most effective in the hall. A tuft of light to-hacco leaves was its crowning ornament, and a fringe of the same leaves hung from its roof and its columns. A smoking room, with all kinds of pipes, with smoking Jackets and duplicate whist sets, formed an annex to the booth. The decoration of this booth was done by Mr. N. M. Pearlisteln and Mr. La Blanch, through the kindness of the Cohen Company. The smoking room was decorated by the Globe Company, who also donated a boy's suit of clothing. Other advantageous attractions secured for the fair through this booth were a long distance 'phone, two hoxes at the Academy of Music for March 20th and 21st, the date of the Gliffen Company's return; a ton of coal, a cord of wood and other things as good.

Steln's Orchestra played a number of gay and patriotte airs during the evening. The restaurant booth, under the firection of Mrs. L. O. Miller, attracted nuch admiring attention and comment.

Interesting Relics.

The seal presented by the English government to Sir Walter Raleigh as Governor of Virginia, in March, 1584; his seal as Warden of the Stanneries in Cornwall, England, and his private seal, have been purchased from a descendant of Raleigh by a number of English gentlemen and placed in the British Museum. The money to purchase the seals was raised by the sale of fac similes in white metal, resembling silver. The fac similes subscribed for by the Virginia Historical Society have been received by Mr. W. G. Stanard, and are now being framed, When they are put in place they will form a most interesting addition to the collection of curies and souvenirs already owned by the society. As the founder of the State of Virginia and one of the knightilest and most scholarly figures of his day in England, Raleigh must always keep a strong held on the affection and respect of Virginians, even of the twentieth century. WEATHER BUREAU'S DAILY RIVER BULLETIN

DAILY RIVER BULLETIN

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—The Weather Bureau to-night issued the following special river bulletini

The river situation has changed but little except in the Memphis District, where it has become quite critical. The stage at Memphis at 8 A. P. was 39.1 feet, 1.8 foot above the previous high water record of April 11, 1897, while tonight the gauge reads 39.6 feet. The rapid rise Sunday and Sunday night was due to recently construced levees and railway embankments. Thus far the levees have been equal to the strain, but the water is now hear their tops and breaks are not at all improbable.

The orisis may be expected within the forty-eight hours, when a stage of nearly forty feet is probable, unless some portions of the levees give way.

The rapid rise above has necessitated a slight modification of the previous forecasts for the Vicksburg District, and the following stages are expected in about six diys: Arkanass, 52: Greenville, 47;
and Vicksburg, 51 feet, At the two first named places the stage forecasts are slightly above the previous high-water records of 1897. In the New Orleans District the rise, while slower is nevertheless progressing stendily and no changes from previous forecasts are now indicated. The stage of water at New Orleans to-night was 19.4 feet, a rise 0.2 toot since Sunday night.

The Offic River is at a standstill at Cairo and is falling above. It will probnobly begin to fail' at Cairo by Wednesday.

GAP OF GREAT LENGTH IN RIVER NEAR VIDALIA

IN KIVEK NEAR VIDALIA

(By Associated Press.)

NATCHEZ, MISS., March 16.—The fifteen-foot embankment of the Texas and Pacific Railway at Bougre, fifteen miles below Vidalia, broke yesterday, and a gup of great length in the river ensued.

The first news of this break was brought to this city by the local mail packet Betsy Ann, which arrived from Bayou Sara this afternoon. This embankment was built last night; 1t connected the upper and lower Bougre lovees, and it was feared it would give away, since the protection levee washed out last week. The ends of the break will be sacked to prevent further caving of the levee.

Dr. Robert C. Carter, of Concordia Parish, Louisiana, arrived here this evening, having ridden horseback over the entire Sycamoro levee in this parish. This levee protects Vidalia, and was reported sinky at each end. Dr. Carter says the levee is low at two places, but will hold, as the levee has been materially strengthened and will be made perfectly safe. A stretch of 1,000 feet at one end and 14,000 feet at the other are low, but it will stand another two and a half feet in its present condition. The water here is clear and the two and a half feet in its present con tion. The water here is clear and it river is on a stand at 47.8, or 3.8 above t

RISE AT VICKSBURG IS VERY IRREGULAR

(By Associated Press.)

VICKSBURG, MISS., March 16.—A slow and Irregular risa in the Mississippi River continues at this point. The gauge at 7 o'clock to-night registered 40.9, one-tenth rise for twelve hours, compared with sixtenths for the preceding forty-eight hours, Officials of the Fifth Louisiana Levee Board returned to-day from a tour of inspection, and their reports are optimistic. Equally encouraging reports are brought by officers of the Natchez-Vicksburg packet steamer Cordelia as to conditions below here. The leves between this point and Natchez can easily stand ten feet more of water, it is said,
